

SPRING 2018 PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR TEACHERS

from the Chippewa River Writing Project and Central Michigan University

ONE-CREDIT COURSE

Tuition: $375

$50 application fee, if applicable

EDU 508 College, Career and Community Writers Program:

This course focuses on respectful argumentative discourse. Teachers learn new methods to help students read critically, explore multiple points of view and develop a stance on important issues. Teacher consultants from CMU's Chippewa River Writing Project use the College, Career and Community Writers Program curriculum in this one-credit workshop to help K-12 educators, across all subject areas, implement aspects of the program into their classrooms.

Classes meet from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays. Two locations available.

- » CMU Saginaw Center, 6200 State St., Ste. 4, Saginaw, MI 48603
Feb. 17, March 10 and April 14, 2018
- » CMU East Lansing Center, 2900 West Rd., Ste. 301,
East Lansing, MI 48823
Feb. 24, March 24 and April 21, 2018

Bring the Chippewa River Writing Project to your School

The Chippewa River Writing Project strives to enhance teacher practices and improve student writing through professional development that is focused, practical and academically sound. If your district, school or curriculum team would like to schedule a half-day or full-day workshop, multiday event or is interested in classroom coaching, the CRWP can design and deliver a custom solution.

Contact the CMU Office of Academic Development to arrange for site-based professional development:

- » 800-950-1144, ext. 3718 or 989-774-3718
- » profdev@cmich.edu

ONE-DAY WORKSHOPS FOR SCECHS

Workshop fee: $150 per person, includes fees to earn 5 SCECHs per workshop

Teaching Argument in the Real World: Students are inundated with digital information, opinions and misinformation. CMU Professor Troy Hicks draws from real world examples to share a wealth of insights and practical strategies to teach how to engage, craft and analyze argument in the digital world.

Class meets from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, April 28, 2018, on the CMU campus. Information on building and room location will be sent to registered students.

From Texting to Teaching: Don't blame technology for poor student grammar, use it to reach students and improve their writing. Bestselling co-author Jeremy Hyler demonstrates how digital and social media can make grammar instruction more authentic and relevant for your students.

Class meets from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 15, 2018, at the CMU East Lansing Center, 2900 West Rd., Ste. 301, East Lansing, MI 48823.

Register for any of these professional development opportunities at global.cmich.edu/CRWPprofdev

