

S U M M E R 2 0 1 8

Announcing the

Chippewa River Writing Camp

Welcoming upper elementary students to CMU's campus this June!

Registration

Local students who are entering grades 3-5 in the fall of 2018 may apply to the Chippewa River Writing Camps. Camp instructors are teachers who have participated in the Chippewa River Writing Project who are excited about working with your child.

The registration cost for each camper is $100, which helps to cover expenses. To ensure that all interested children can participate though, partial scholarships are available to ANY family who chooses to use one. Details are on the registration page.

Please begin the secure registration process by starting with the "Youth and Community Programs" section on our website. The $100 registration fee for the 2018 camp is only accepted online and can be paid by Visa, MasterCard, Discover, or American Express through CMU's secure QuikPay system.

chippewariverwp.org/youth

Questions? Contact Marcia Larkins at marcia.larkins3@gmail.com

Chippewa River
Writing Project

Start your summer writing adventure!!!

Our Chippewa River Writing Camps will encourage your young writer to become more confident & creative. Together we'll share a love for writing, and a whole lot of fun.

Let your child join us on an exciting journey through engaging activities as we live out our "writerly lives." For $100, your child will receive four full days of camp (M-Th, 9:00 – 3:00), as well as snacks, a writer's journal, and a camp t-shirt.

We will offer one camp session in 2018

CMU Campus, Anspach Hall

June 18-21, 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM each day

Writing Our Way Across Campus

Join other friends who love writing as you get to know CMU's campus. Each day, we will explore different parts of campus along with special events including our writing marathon and writer's celebration.